2014 Annual Report

Greetings From The Executive Director

In 2014, we celebrated 25 years of offering services to those in health crisis. Over those years, Pathways has been pioneering, developing and offering, through the kindness of over 160 volunteer providers, free complementary therapies to participants with life-threatening and chronic health crises.

We recognized our donor, provider and participant community by throwing a 25th anniversary party - a big one - and then we returned our focus to the year at hand. We continue to look forward to stay informed and relevant to the health care community without taking our eyes off serving our own participant community.

We are bursting at the seams with activity and an ever-increasing schedule of research-supported, participant-focused programs. We look towards the next 25 years with visions of continued growth and impact yet remain committed to the aspect of working with each participant to help them look within to discover their own innate capacity for strength and resiliency.

We hope you will join us as we move forward.

Tim Thorpe, Executive Director

What occurred in 2014 of noteworthy mention?

Our 'Stories From The Heart' 25th Anniversary Fundraising Party

- It was creative and fun and we raised some very generous donor dollars.

Our Participants, Programs and Providers

- We were honored to coordinate close to 10,000 participant visits.
- We expanded our Renewing Life™ curriculum to include a second, new version, 'Renewing Life™ for Older Adults'.
- We trained 30 new Renewing Life™ facilitators to expand its presence in the community.

Our Outreach

- We began offering Pathways as a retreat space to groups in our community looking for a space to learn and recharge.
- We signed a two-year agreement with Fairview's Ebenezer Senior Homes Division, offering services and programs purposefully customized to enhance quality of life for their senior residents.
- With a nod of thanks to the Komen Foundation, we offered 4 Renewing Life™ weekend retreats to low income women with breast cancer, including a 5th retreat to help train more facilitators.
- We were invited to VA Headquarters in Washington, D.C., to discuss the potential of developing a Renewing Life™ program for veterans.
- We held a retreat with outside professionals to explore if and how our services might transition to those youth who have been caught in the traumatic web of sexual abuse and/or human trafficking.

Research

- Our University of Arizona-implemented research study was published in Global Advances in Health and Medicine, a nationally/internationally-distributed medical journal; the article was titled Pathways to Healing: Person-Centered Responses To Complementary Services.

How we serve, Who we serve

For 25 years, Pathways has met Minnesotans with chronic or life-threatening diagnoses on their personal journeys, providing programs absolutely free of charge.

Delivered by licensed and certified volunteer providers, Pathways' research-supported services and therapies have been shown to improve participants' quality of life by helping to lead them away from exhaustion, depression and brokenness toward energy, hope and a sense of wholeness.

To date, Pathways has orchestrated and enabled the delivery of this integrative care in over 130,000 participant visits. And it continues to demonstrate, with every such visit, the life-enhancing power of shared strength and healing within.

2014 Numbers Served:

- Nearly 10,000 total participant visits
- We registered 30-40 new participants and an average of 3 new volunteer providers per month
- More than 160 licensed and certified volunteer providers supplied 9,000+ hours of individual and group sessions annually, equaling more than $300,000 in free services
- 26 volunteer support staff provided 1,784 hours of service

Pathways' mission is to provide resources and services for people with a health crisis, and their caregivers, to explore and experience complementary healing approaches.

ART, MUSIC, & CREATIVITY

I am so grateful that there is this peaceful, healing, creative place to help my daughter manage her chronic pain and give her something to look forward to. I am grateful, too, that these services are provided for free since she has no health insurance and no salary. This resource doesn't dwell on what she doesn't have. It fills her with positive experiences and thoughts and new friends - important things for both her and me (her caregiver) to have!

Renewing Life™

Pathways' Renewing Life™ program is an effective education and support group experience that focuses on self-renewal, empowerment and the reframing of one's life experiences. Offered through both multi-week and weekend retreat versions, the Renewing Life™ program is being expanded via various pilot groups outside of Pathways, with the intent of ultimately making it available in all communities.

I had never addressed my breast cancer after I was through with treatment. It just went away on the outside, but on the inside, I knew that I had cancer. Yes, I am thrilled it has stayed away, but I will always be waiting for "that call" after a mammogram. [Through Renewing Life™] I learned that I am not alone and that because it's not there now doesn't make me less of a cancer survivor. I am a survivor because I fought like a girl and won this round.
